Investment Risk

Distribution

An investment in the production of a motion picture is extremely speculative and involves a high degree of risk. The ideal accredited investor for this project is one who understands the underlying risk and strongly believes Gangster Insurance should be shown to the widest audience possible.

Production Risk

The total budget to produce a motion picture is often underestimated because of many unforeseen issues that are beyond the control of the producers. To contain the risk of over expenditure, Gangster Insurance plans to mitigate them in the following three ways.

1. Create internal accountability. Hire cast who can attract distributors and a wide audience. Secure commitment from cast and crew to guarantee completion of the film.
2. Production schedule will include plans to assist in any issues from weather changes to unexpected personnel circumstances or location problems.
3. Secure comprehensive insurance.

Sales Approach

A sales strategy at the development stage is vital. Production plans to hire a proven sales team to start early interest in the film.

Production will work with talent agencies and distributors to ensure the biggest release. Production will begin marketing during development, starting with social media.

Festivals

Gangster Insurance will be submitted to the top level Film Festivals including Sundance, SXSW, Tribeca, Nashville, Toronto, Berlin, or Cannes.

Leading Industry Professionals

Production will protect investors interests by utilizing verified industry professionals.
